Target Audience

This course is for teachers of languages. One will be addressed to a number of motivational activities to help students of languages. The course will explore some factors we all need to consider when choosing, using and adapting activities, such as interaction, motivation and classroom management. Participants should have a minimum English language level corresponding to B1 on the CFR.

Course Overview and Outcomes

This course will help you identify and understand the kinds of activities that are most effective for helping students develop their language skills. As part of the course you will explore the factors we need to consider when selecting, adapting and using activities. These factors include interaction, motivation and classroom management. You will look at how to evaluate and adapt published activities and how to effectively create your own. Over the course you will build up a bank of activities that you can use with your students and continue to build on during your career.

Content

Classroom Activities, Interaction and Motivation includes content drawn from some or all of the following areas:

- Exploring what makes good activities
- Identifying aims for activities
- Thinking about the importance of interaction
- Thinking about what motivates people generally
- Thinking about what the teacher should do before, during and after an activity
- Exploring what makes a good speaking activity
- Thinking about how to motivate your students to write in English
- Exploring activities that recycle vocabulary

Specific course content comes from feedback you and other participants give us through pre-course questionnaires, identifying your needs and priorities. We build time into the course for reflection, to consider how to adapt the content to your own professional context, and practice with the tools and platforms explored.

All NILE at ESE Malta courses involve a significant element of English language improvement and/or the development of language awareness

Trainers

NILE's highly experienced trainers are experts, not only in their fields, but also in working with teachers for continuing professional development.

Teaching approaches

We make courses practical and 'hands-on', with reference to relevant theory
